

The Civic Constellation I

History and Politics of Citizenship

An International Workshop of the The Civic Constellation Project in cooperation with Globernance, the Institute for Democratic Governance, and the Finnish Centre in Political Thought and Conceptual History

Donostia-San Sebastián, Spain, 9-10 March 2012

PROGRAM

Friday, 9 March 2012 House of Peace and Human Rights, Aiete Pasealekua 65

INAUGURAL LECTURE 16:15 – 17:30

Sia Spiliopoulou Åkermark, The Åland Islands Peace Institute
*Silent Seduction—How the Theory of the Responsibility to Protect (R2P)
Reshapes Fundamentally our Thinking about Democratic Citizenship and International Law*

SECOND SESSION 18:00 – 20:00

Esteban Anchustegui Igartua, Université du Pays Basque
La technologie, la mondialisation économique et l'État-nation
Marta Postigo, University of Málaga
Europe as a Cosmopolitan Political Project
Daniel Innerarity, Globernance Institute
Nous et les autres

Saturday, 10 March 2012 University of the Basque Country, Facultad de Filosofía, Ave. Tolosa 70

THIRD SESSION 10:00 – 12:00

José María Rosales, University of Málaga
The Moral Reasonability of Immigrant Integration
Tapani Turkka, Universities of Tampere and Jyväskylä
The Share of Non-Citizens in Politics Today
Antonio Rivera, Complutense University of Madrid
Citoyenneté démocratique et philosophie du populisme

PROJECT'S BUSINESS MEETING: 12:00 – 13:00 Programing further activities

FOURTH SESSION 14:30 – 16:30

Rosario López, University of Málaga
Making Sense of Victorian Political Life: The Principles of Order and Progress
Pablo Sanchez León, University of the Basque Country
Rights, Status and Interests: Merchants as Citizens in the First Spanish Liberal Culture, 1808-1814
Jussi Kurunmäki, Stockholm University
The Lost Language of Democracy: Anti-Rhetorical Traits in the Study of Democracy

FIFTH SESSION 17:00 – 19:30

Cristina Lasa Otxoteco, Université du Pays Basque
L'autorité n'est plus ce qu'elle était
Manuel Toscano, University of Málaga
Are Language Rights the 'Cinderella' of Human Rights?
Kari Palonen, University of Jyväskylä
Against Depoliticisation of 'Citizenship'

Closing Remarks

